

Survival Kid's Kit

Every kid should have their own small everyday carry kit. The following items are the minimum supplies that could come in handy during an emergency:

- A few hard candies
- Small mylar pouch of juice or water
- Small package of tissues
- Small bottle of hand sanitizer or individually packaged wipes
- Band-aids
- Light stick or small LED flashlight with fresh batteries
- High calorie energy bar
- Medium size Zip-Loc for trash/sanitary disposal
- Small card with important phone numbers

Pack everything in a large, sturdy Zip-Loc bag and tuck into your Survival Kid's backpack. These can also be kept in a desk or locker at school.

Additional items? Consider adding hand/foot warmers during the winter, a bandana for multiple uses, small multi-tool or Swiss army knife, and a whistle.
